Bringing Indonesian Products to the World

Koperasi Pemasaran Mitra Ekspor Nusantara is a cooperative engaged in marketing and developing Indonesia's superior products for both domestic and international markets. We establish strategic partnerships with farmers, artisans, and MSMEs across various regions to deliver high-quality products such as batik and ethnic fashion, PKE, raw and burned rice husk, as well as natural healthy food products that are ready to compete in the global market.

Upholding cooperative values of togetherness, transparency, and sustainability, we are committed to bridging local potential with global market demand. Koperasi Pemasaran Mitra Ekspor Nusantara continuously focuses on improving product quality, standardization, and professional governance to create added value for our members while building long-term trust with partners and buyers worldwide.

VISI

To become a trusted marketing and export cooperative that connects Indonesia's superior products to the global market in a sustainable, competitive, and value-driven manner for members and partners.

MISI

1. To consolidate and market superior products from cooperative members, farmers, artisans, and MSMEs for domestic and international markets.
2. To enhance product quality, production standards, and competitiveness to meet global market and export requirements.
3. To build transparent, fair, and sustainable partnerships with all stakeholders.
4. To strengthen members' economic growth through professional, accountable, and value-added cooperative management.

OUR SERVICE

Sourcing Raw Material

In the era of Industry 4.0, one of the biggest challenges in delivering high-quality products is sourcing the right raw materials, as selection is often based only on images or videos without direct inspection. As a trusted company since 2014, supported by experts, we assist in selecting the right materials to ensure every product is made from high-quality raw materials.

Product Development

Product development involves research and selecting appropriate production processes to create market-driven products. We work with experts and professionals to ensure each product meets optimal quality standards, actively involving customers from concept to production with flexible minimum orders, helping your product gain clear strengths.

Custom Packaging & Design

The selection of primary and secondary packaging along with the right design plays a vital role in determining a product's success in the market. We assist you in developing packaging concepts that align with your product identity and target market by adopting the latest trends, various models, and size options to create attractive, functional.

Quality Control

When you entrust your products to us, we ensure that product quality and packaging are closely supervised by professionals based on defined standards. Through continuous quality control systems, we maintain consistent quality over time, providing reliable stability and assurance so your products remain competitive in both domestic and international markets.
